

Tune, Repose

I believe we run away in dreams
Silently, you're telling me to sleep
You say: Lay your head down
In time, you'll rectify
Find some strength for a while
Pinned to the ground, curled up
You'll be safe and sound
Dreadful pain will subside
I break through reality
Serenity comes only in dreams
It's painful, no remedy
Can't fight it down
I just need to sleep

I shut my eyes down
No sign of crowds
I'm the only one
Darkness fades out as I
Soak up the sun, gain light
So bright that it ignifies,
Makes me feel I'm alive

I thank you for showing me asylum
Where my fears can't be seen
But I hate you as I can only be here just a while Till the day reaches in

But I, I just need to sleep now...
Oh, yes I need to sleep...
But I, I shut my eyes down and...
I need to sleep now...
