U2, If You Wore That Velvet Dress

Tonight the moon is playing tricks again Feeling sea sick again And the whole world could just dissolve... into a glass of water

I've been good 'cause I know you don't want me to Do you really want me to be blue as you It's her daylight that gets me through

We've been here before... last time you scratched at my door The moon was naked and cold I was like a two year old Who just wanted more If you wear that velvet dress If you wear that velvet dress

Tonight the moon has drawn its curtains It's a private show no one else is going to know I'm wanting

Sunlight sunlight fills my room It's sharp and it's clear But nothing at all like the moon

It's okay the struggle for things not to say I never listened to you anyway And I got my own hands to pray...

But if you wear that velvet dress But if you wear that velvet dress

Tonight the moon is a mirrorball Light flickers from across the hall Who'll catch the star when it falls

If you wear that velvet dress
