U2, Let Your Love Be Known (Bono)

a little postcards form buble and Dublin and on the same Patrick's day little tune made up here about an hour ago I think it's called LET YOUR LOVE BE KNOWN it was a time yes there was no people here yes I walked through the streets of Dublin and no one was near yes I don't know you no I didn't think I didn't care you live so very far away from just across the square and I can't reach but I can raise you can't touch but you can, you can see

see across roof tube see via a phone sing, promise mi you won't stop sing, oh LET YOUR LOVE BE KNOWN LET YOUR LOVE BE KNOWN
