

Unleashed, Born Deranged

bombs go off and shake the ground radiation all around it doesn't smell, it doesn't sound all survived or so it seems another nuclear life begins a child is born with twisted limbs

born deranged
born deranged
born deranged

born a mutant so deranged cannot see it's parents face cancer inside growing pain coughing blood, the days go by organs slowly burn inside alive decaying, hope to die

born deranged
born deranged
born deranged

born deranged our price to pay for the european union's aim - to lead the market's "hall of shame"; face the fact: it's just a part of united states of europe's start - this little "gift"; from jacques chirac
