Unwritten Law, Shallow

Sometimes it seems you just don't understand The way I think and who I am When I'm told, I'm told what I'm supposed to be You think you know what's best for me I want to see you standing next to me Seems you got nothing much to say And when you're dying lying next to me I'll turn my head and walk away Sometimes it seems I might be losing touch Or maybe I just try too much Now I, now I get told I'm crazy Nothing you can say will phase me now I want to see you standing next to me Seems you got nothing much to say And when you're dying lying next to me I'll turn my head and walk away I walk alone My thoughts aren't always carved in stone My life revolves according to me, And what you say don't mean a fucking thing to me Yeah, you'll see I'll make it further on my own I want to see you standing next to me Seems you got nothing much to say And when you're dying lying next to me I'll turn my head and walk away I want to see you standing next to me Seems you got nothing much to say And when you're dying lying next to me I'll turn my head and walk away
