

Usher, All Falls Down (ft. Chris Brown)

She built a bridge out of her own insecurities
No one was brave enough to cross except for me
Here I am
She built a castle from the piece she took from me
I'm going crazy, think she brought out the worst in me
Here I am....

Guess the price was the fall if I get up
Cause the strong will survive, that don't give up
Where she fell in love, her heart is resting now
Six feet underground

She feels stupid loving me for me... Yeah
And I'm the fool who falls too easily
We all fall down sometimes
We all fall down sometimes
So why can't I?
Hey
So why can't I?

[Chris Brown:]
You gotta go I know the time waits for no man
Don't say your words unspoken girl I overstand
Here I am
What do we mean? Some questions don't have an answer
Two out of three made me a believer
Here I am
