Whenever the sunglasses hide the remains of my tears
I believed that bit by bit, I would become stronger.
Then, the strangeness of it struck me

Always trying to look strong Forcing myself to laugh
However, in reality
I really want to cry and like a coward, I pretend

If all I do is hide, then fashion and brand names are nothing
For I don't reveal my true self to anyone
I played a part in that game, oh no

The blue sky comes today
Explaining clearly, I still give the wrong impression
In reality, I'm not proud of faking things

Somewhere
There is a person who understands and he is reaching out While that hand is open
I'll surely find it

Secretly
The promise of forgiveness has changed
Somebody,
I'm also here
We'll meet by chance today

Always pretending to be strong
I force myself to laugh
However, in reality
Even you are a cowardly pretender

Today, the rain is coming I don't want to get my hopes up but in reality
I'm not proud of faking things

It has to be from this same position
Do you understand?
Oh, God
Am I all alone?
That's why I'll show you

In the heart

The only way we connect is through the shadows
Somebody,
I'm also here
Today, by chance we'll meet
