<lyrics>
Whenever the sunglasses hide the remains of my tears
I believed that bit by bit, I would become stronger.
Then, the strangeness of it struck me

Always trying to look strong Forcing myself to laugh
However, in reality
I really want to cry and like a coward, I pretend

If all I do is hide, then fashion and brand names are nothing For I don't reveal my true self to anyone I played a part in that game, oh no

The blue sky comes today Explaining clearly, I still give the wrong impression In reality, I'm not proud of faking things

Somewhere
There is a person who understands
and he is reaching out While that hand
is open
I'll surely find it

Secretly
The promise of forgiveness
has changed
Somebody,
I'm also here
We'll meet by chance today

Always pretending to be strong I force myself to laugh However, in reality Even you are a cowardly pretender

Today, the rain is coming I don't want to get my hopes up but in reality I'm not proud of faking things

It has to be from this same position Do you understand? Oh, God Am I all alone? That's why I'll show you

In the heart

The only way we connect is through the shadows Somebody, I'm also here Today, by chance we'll meet
