

Van Halen, She's The Woman

A little low on cash, but I'm high on luck.
I wanna be your knight in shining pick-up truck
With a Chevy for my summer home.
Let's get the party started
It's looking like the city towed my other apartment.

She got a doorbell sign that said:
"Bring it or don't ring it."

Fate is my pimp,
But she was cool.

I said If you're doin' business with me, honey
What does that make you?

Some Casablanca gin joint?
You're a nervous wreck.

Your I.Q. plummets fourteen points.
Her thunder thong around your neck.

The song ain't dirty
It's really just the way we sing it

She wanted something to regret tomorrow morning.
This suburban garage-a-trois was worth exploring.
Yeah dreams come true but it remains to be seen.
By the time mine usually do it's no longer me!

She got a doorbell sign:
"You better bring it, or don't ring it."
