

Vanishing Point, Story of Misery

You breathe your life into my world
You bleed your blood into my soul
Abstained, broken, mirrored, entwined
You held my reflection

Mirrored I
Dying your heartbeat surrounds me
Taking life

How can I be the one you always blame?
See how you turn around, you're still the same
I just don't understand, why can't you see?
Where has the love gone?
I just can't believe

Calm is your touch lifeless and broken
Wasted in years, I dream you'll awaken
There's no more here, just a story of misery
There's nothing here I can see

Mirrored I
Dying your heartbeat surrounds me
Taking life

How can I be the one you always blame?
See how you turn around, you're still the same
I just don't understand, why can't you see?
Where has the love gone?
I just can't believe
