

Vintersea, Unveiling Light

When the time has come
Will I face my rebirth?
When the light unveils
Will I wake again?

Reformation
Will my spirit soar?

I'm flowing through the ether
Wallow through, the open chord
Unmasking of the kingdoms
Which side will I call my home?
My sense is slowly slipping
Knowing less than I've ever known
I'm blinded by the spirit
Writhing on the open road

Will this be my lifetime?
Will I fall? Will I go on?
The unveiling light
Brings me back to places that I knew
A new day brings a start
Once again awaken to this world
Will I find my joy?
Listen to my heart
Let it burn

Ashes of my past, upon my path
Wisp of faded memories
Shadows of the lessons learned
Losing my connection
Can't recognize these severed ties
Drifting through the wind of solitude
Destined to soar alone

Will this be my lifetime?
Will I fall? Will I go on?
The unveiling light
Brings me back to places that I knew
A new day brings a start
Once again awaken to this world
Will I find my joy?
Listen to my heart
Let it burn
Let it burn
