

Visionatica, The Pharaoh

First we must dig in our past
To understand our present
So many secrets in the desert

We even fight for it
This gold was so bright
It has made everyone blind
We will never see the light
When we only walk at night

With a mystical might
The Pharaoh awoke our lives
We are only blind
We destroy this world
Can't you hear the melody
Of forgotten history?
There was a war against ourselves
Now we are our own slaves

The gods among us
Already know the answers
We are not the only ones
Have you ever wondered
If everything is only a chance?
This gold was so heavy
We don't have any memory
Where from we have this certainty?
This opens us possibilities

With a mystical might
The Pharaoh awoke our lives
We are only blind
We destroy this world
Can't you hear the melody
Of forgotten history?
There was a war against ourselves
Now we are our own slaves

Can't you hear the melody
Of forgotten history?
There was a war against ourselves
Now we are our own slaves
