

Visions Of Atlantis, Last Shut Of Your Eyes

Barrier of glass, filled with my tears empty space, just no one to hear walk alone, I can't get clear of those few seconds

Wilted heart, shattered with pain spring will never lead me astray no one's able to fan my flame condemn myself

If I had just been able to say I'm sorry don't go away, live by my side because without you life is grey and even sun won't light my day

But now it is too late
all those lines are delayed You'll never cross this street again you're out of sight

In my dreams I see your face every moment seems like whole days I can't clean up my disgrace and those few seconds

If I had just been able, to say turn round don't go, please stay, stay with me my dear

If I had just been able to say I'm sorry

But now it is too late
all those lines are delayed
You'll never cross this street again
you're out of sight
I will ever be the one to blame Last shut of your eyes.

Ferries guide you
guide you all along Ferries guide you away on silver waves

Crying heaven turns in seas of tears Ferries guide you
guide you out of sight
