

Visions Of Atlantis, Legion of the Seas

Take the chart
Make a mark
Not a day where I won't listen to my heart
Sail away, sail away

Stay the course
To the source
Not a day that I will have end in remorse
Not today, not today

The journey's now or never
Embrace your soul forever
You feel alive when cresting the waves
Just get yourself together
The crying times are over
And show the world the fine edge of your blade

Born to be free
We're the legion of the seas
We've conquered all the waters with our fleet
Born to be free
We're the legion of the seas
We subjugate the free world at our feet

Dominus
Dominus Hominum

See the shore
Getting close
Another day we're meant to do what we adore
And again, and again

Hear the chant
Calling us
It's a siren, listening is too dangerous
Run away, run away, run away

It must feel so heavy now
So close your eyes again

Lost my innocence along the way (I will show you how)
All I want: no game, no lies, no pain (To win the hearts of men)

Born to be free
We're the legion of the seas
We've conquered all the waters with our fleet
Born to be free
We're the legion of the seas
We subjugate the free world at our feet

Come weary heart, take my hand
I am the one who will take you back
To the sand
Of your lost wonderland

Born to be free
We're the legion of the seas
We've conquered all the waters with our fleet
Born to be free
We're the legion of the seas
We subjugate the free world at our feet

Born to be free
We're the legion of the seas

