

Visions Of Atlantis, Wild Elysium

I can feel a rising storm
Dreading all the clouds to form
All around
Not a sound
Waiting for the fall

Sadness wins my lonely heart
Slowly tearing me apart
All is cold
Grey and old

Show me the way through the night
Show me the way to the gates of delight

Hear my serenade
Give my soul a name
I surrender, my Lord
I have broken my sword
Given all the pain
Will I feel again?
I ascend or I fall
Find a gate or a wall
After all, we can only run
To wild Elysium

Faith, the only shield I hold
Waving lights of blues and gold
Facing wrongs
Standing strong
Did it for too long

Courage takes a willing heart
Bravery as a work of art
I did fight
Day and night

I put an end to the strife
Ode to the glorious day of my life

Hear my serenade
Give my soul a name
I surrender, my Lord
I have broken my sword
Given all the pain
Will I feel again?
I ascend or I fall
Find a gate or a wall
After all, we can only run
To wild Elysium

Hear my serenade
Give my soul a name
I surrender, my Lord
I have broken my sword
Given all the pain
Will I feel again?
I ascend or I fall
Find a gate or a wall
After all, life has just begun

After all, life has just begun
In my Elysium