Volkana, 05 - Wake Up

Power to keep you under control Money to keep them playing their role Experts in plans that never work out You're not the one they're worried about

Wake up, this ain't a dream Your life is in their hands They steal before your eyes Wake up, begin to rise

Bastards in suits who play with your mind Should be behind bars with their kind It's time for you to turn things around Wise up, before they start the next round