

Votum, Train back home

"[...] chciałem żyć świadomie, [...] czerpać ze źródeł życia samą jego istotę, odrzucić wszystko co nie

□ I wished to live deliberately, to front only the essential facts of life, and see if I could not learn what

Henry David Thoreau

I never thought that night would change my life so entirely

An evening at an old friends house, a glass of wine

I was supposed to stay till eight, but then again I thought

I'll take another train back home

I'll take another train back home

The time has come for me to go, though they insisted:

Stay for the night, they said, streets look so empty tonight.

I'll take another train back home

I'll take another train back home

Take another train

The second I opened the door is still coming back to me every night;

I wish I could take a halt and turn back time.

There on the doorsteps I looked at the stars

Twinkling pranksters spun my time

I took a deep breath and thought: Lifes beautiful.

Somewhere in the night

That trains still rolling

Somewhere in the night

My trains still running
