

Walls Of Jericho, And Hope To Die

The world has been against you from day one
Tomorrows never promised, night has just begun
So sing with me we're all fucked
Cause this is your hell and this is your heaven
Unlearn what you know burn all you've been given

I sing this song hoping that you still care
Cause we still care
That all the bronken dreamers are living this nightmare

This was written when my heart and mind defined this contradiction
There was nothing I could have done
Those days play on and on
Now I cannot see what's written on your grave
I saw the white flag raised from miles away

I'm sorry for not being there, twice in one fucking year

You must have felt so alone, terrified of a hollowed home
The only thing hopeless is death
Desperate hope made you cry out, someone end the pain
The only thing hopeless is death
