

Waterdown, Impress Me

you're nothing new to me and all the things you say have been traced out for you i've seen your kind before playing holy war i heard them preach their laws they're not around no more you fail to impress me two years from now where will you be
you're nothing new to me
you take yourself so serious what makes you so shure?
you're nothing new to me
and you seem to believe your straight morality your values are not real your superiority does not impress me this is your own house don't you try to burn it down i can see through your mask you're nothing new