

We Are Scientists, Callbacks

I guess that I should probably leave right now
'cause I'm already kinda sweaty and freakin' out
I gotta time-bomb headache that's sticking down
I guess that everything is better when I'm not around
It's all outta context
There's nothing I'm into
Call it a complex
It's really quite simple
I'm tired of these hang ups
I wish someone would call me back
How 'bout it?
Well my tongue is hot and I'm singing songs
I got a million only words for what you are
I gotta plastic bag and a broken heart
I guess everything is better wherever you are
It's all outta context
There's nothing I'm into
Call it a complex
It's really quite simple
I'm tired of these hang ups
I wish someone would call me back
How 'bout it?
It's all about context
There's nothing I'm into
Call it a complex
It's really quite simple
I'm tired of these hang ups
I wish someone would call me back
I said that I'm so sorry to bring you down
I guess that everything's better
when I'm not around
I said that I'm so sorry to bring you down
I guess that everything's better
when I'm not around
I said that I'm so sorry to bring you down
I guess that everything's better
when I'm not around
