

Weeping Willows, Louisa

Louisa I am weeping for you still
When I needed your warm caress
I could always come to your adress
But when you put your hand in mine
I knew it was only for a while
I was only your part-time desire

Louisa, in whose arms are you resting tonight?
Louisa, I am waiting for you still

When you told me that we were through
Then I knew that you'd been crying too
'Cause you couldn't settle down
You felt as if you would drown
But I knew that you really loved me true

Louisa, in whose arms are you resting tonight?
Louisa, I am weeping for you still
Louisa, whose heart are you testing tonight?
Louisa, always looking for a thrill
Louisa, Louisa, I am waiting for you still

Louisa...
