

Werle & Stankowski, Today

i don't put my trousers on
today

i'm going to stay where i belong

and i start my sentimental journey by watching photographs in bed leafing through the many lives i had my simple mind needs resurrection from meeting people on my way it's all a little bit too much these days i'm not answering the phone

i feel the need to be alone
