White Flag, White Flag

"White Flag"

Took the acid in the afternoon Just to be part of the scenery with all the lonely People there we are Took a trip out to the galaxy I'm not looking for salvation just a taste of liberation I said my friends Like to sit all day and watch the stars bend

I can see your white flag flying in the distance I know that it's lonely there where you are If everything is perfect tell me why you're hurting It won't be long

Took a trip out to the girly show It was there i talked to jesus he said christ Don't you believe it Another drink and we talked all night I asked does it hurt to be you he said boy it hurts like hell He said my friends Like to sit all day and watch the stars bend

I can see your white flag flying in the distance I know that you're lonely there where you are If everything's so perfect tell me why you're hurting It won't be long

Three am and the light's so strange Little rosa's started dancing now with all the lonely people there we are Leans to me asks for a cigarette I asked does it hurt to be you She said boy it hurts like hell She said my friends like to sit all day and watch the stars bend
