

Why Store, Is She Cold

Is she cold
Is she bitter
Is she cold so far away
And then love strikes a chord in the night
Turns her soul turns it way out of sight
Turning back but there's nowhere to go
She gives love but there's no one to show
And then why oh why she asks why
Should I feel this torture inside
Never wanted never dreamed it could be
Only wanted my soul to be free
She made the love she made it fall
She had the world she had it all
Turned into what she would be
But now it's all gone and she's there
And then love strikes a chord in the night
Turns her soul turns it way out of sight
Turning back but there's nowhere to go
She gives love but there's no one to show
