

Willie Nelson, It Always Will Be

Sometimes I think
That love is somewhere
Livin on an island all alone
I can see it in the darkness
I can feel it in the distance
And then its gone

And then I know that it is time
For me to go and find my favorite girl
Cause when I look into her eyes I see
All the love there is in all the world

And it always will be
And it always will be
And it always will be
It always will be

There are some things I think about
And every time I do it breaks my heart
And there is nothing I can do
About this loneliness I feel when we're apart
I stop and curse the darkness and the distance
And then your face I see
And when I look into your eyes I see
All the love there is inside of me

And it always will be
And it always will be
And it always will be
It always will be

And it always will be
And it always will be
And it always will be
It always will be
