

WILLOW, Lipstick

Lipstick on a mirror
Saying who you want to be
Vision gets dimmer
The room is closing in on me

I am feeling all alone no space no time
Looking at life through a blue bird's eye
I am flying /3x
And I went up so far, I took my time
Tell me why I couldn't ever find cloud nine
Alright /3x

I spread my wings
The song they sing
I owe it all yto you /2x

It just smoke and mirrors
They said it's gonna take soem time
I think we live in a labirynth
That was created by my mind
I never wanted to jus suffer inside
Hurt don't heal when i am always tryna hide
And i am looking at pain like my old close friend
Open arms to her when i ee her again

I spread my wings
The song they sing
I owe it all yto you /2x
