

Xspace, Let Me Be

by Benjamin Ackerman

I'm better than you, and I know you well evicted from life, sent straight to hell they drained your blood and erased your name removed your soul and forgot your fame ask yourself, who you know measure yourself by your soul I never thought it'd come to this I never thought see you hear I never thought I'd be controlled by someone else's fears For all I've ever wanted For all I've ever said mistaken forever, memories left for dead Bleed me now and praise me later positioned in a hierarchy through someone else's labour psychopathic dreams of truths and lies permeate my soul and sting my eyes All we need is somebody to remove these shackles and set us free All I need is somebody to soothe my soul and let me be
