Young Guns, Dearly Departed

Oh dust and bones That I have left behind Are monuments to those I used to know At least I know where I am on my own

I wanna be the last thing that you see Be my dearly departed Back to when you were the only thing I need Before I gave up, my dearly departed Gave up, my dearly departed

Your sticks and stones, are all that I've ever known I'm bruised but I'm not broken and I know At least I know where I am on my own

I wanna be the last thing that you see Be my dearly departed Back to when you were the only thing I need Before I gave up, my dearly departed Gave up, my dearly departed

None of the people who tried to could make me feel this way I'll gladly do my time I found you, unbound you, and tried to explain the only way, That I knew how to say

I wanna be the last thing that you see Be my dearly departed Back to when you were the only thing I need I wanna be the last thing that you see My dearly departed I wanna be the last thing that you see My dearly departed I wanna be the last thing that you see My dearly departed I wanna be the last thing that you see My dearly departed I wanna be the last thing that you see My dearly departed
