

Zebrahead, Blur

Did you ever get the feeling that you were all alone
And no one ever knew you and you never had a home
And the lights and the colors do their best to distract you
Fuck you. I don't even know why I like you
It's all a blur [x2]
Like a picture, it's all a blur
You don't know what you're missing
You don't know what you're missing
I've been trying so hard just to keep away
And now look where I am standing at today
Trying so hard to walk away
But it's impossible to watch you fade away
Did you ever stop believing after all was said and done?
When you turned to your friends but they were long gone
And the sky and the snapshots remind you
I trust you and I'm always going to miss you
It's all a blur, it's all a blur
Like a picture
Reminds me who you were
[Repeat Chorus]
Every time I see you look at me
I see those distant eyes and your looks are fading
Every time you're next to me
I want to talk and feel and act like we used to Cause everybody knows and everybody cares
Until they're walking in my shoes
And now I know
It's you that I cannot lose
It's all a blur
And I owe you
You can take it all
When I call, pick up the phone like you used to

It's all a blur

It's all a blur

You're just a blur!

I've been trying so hard just to keep away

And now look where I am standing at today

Trying so hard to walk away

But it's impossible to watch you fade away

Trying, dying so hard

I've been denying that I'm not scarred

I've been crying, lying so far

But it's impossible to fill this space

Impossible to take your place

Impossible to watch you fade away

Watch you fade away [x3]
