

Bad Religion, You Are (The Government)

Hey, sit down and listen and they'll tell you when you're wrong
Eradicate but vindicate as 'progress' creeps along
Puritan work ethic maintains it's subconscious edge
As old glory maintains your consciousness
There's a loser in my house and a puppet on a stool
And a crowded way of life and a black, reflecting pool
And as the people bend the moral fabric dies
Then country can't pretend to ignore its peoples' cries
'Cause you are the government
'Cause you are jurisprudence
You are the volition
You are jurisdiction
And I make a difference too
