

Hoobastank, Right Before Your Eyes

When the door shuts
Dont worry about me
Its not attention that I want from you
I need you to trust who Im gonna be
And in everything Im going to do

Cause Im not afraid
Of what I dont know
For understanding is all that I earn
What is for sure is Im gonna to go
Im gonna to live and Im going to learn

And I know there will be mistakes that I will make
But I know theyre not worse than chances I dont take, take
Right before your eyes I am changing, changing
New life on the inside I am changing, changing

When the door shuts
Its shuts in front of me
A new person that I have become
I follow my heart to my destiny
But living in fear and sorrow is done

There will be no more feeling that Im all alone
I will surround myself with things that help me grow, grow
Right before your eyes I am changing, changing
New life on the inside I am changing, changing

Right before your eyes I am changing, changing
New life on the inside I am changing, changing
Right before your eyes I am changing, changing
New life on the inside I am changing, changing

Right before your eyes
Right before your eyes
