Used to think about you when I should start to feel this weight
What I give you?
Holding how I want it off, not as if you had enough
Does he ask you?
You still see, you still want
But trust me, he won't give you, teach you
I couldn't tell what you want anymore
How to cold you, craving, used to

'Cause I never felt you
I never felt you
Now the vision of the new
And you say, you
To feel

Then years, a million years
But you still feel that I won't meet
Can he lift you?
How can she fake a kiss, like release
Can he save you?

Close your eyes, it's like I never left you
More reason for what you had, holding on, this is my past
I still chase you

But I never felt you
I never felt you
Now the vision of you
And you say, you
To feel
