Planet Smashers, Psycho Neighbour

My psycho neighbours at it again What's the problem? (the problem) There's no one there except her friends Which she has none of Rambling on, No end is seen For all the anger (the anger) If her words have meaning I'm screwed Is she capable or able

That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down Oh should I let her in or let her break it down That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down

Screaming swearing late at night No sleep 'til morning (morning) Is she aware how insane it seems What does she think of It's difficult not to let affect My mind grows weary (weary) My other neighbors can agree That she's not stable or able

That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down Oh should I let her in or let her break it down That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down Oh should I let her in or let her break it down That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down That girl is at my door she's gonna break it down