

Subb, December's Coldest Day

I'm gonna leave you know, not gonna turn around
I seemed so far away, when sadness turned it's face
Thought i'd never hit, thought i'd never run
You'll know where you stand, when all's accounted for...

Jealousy...jealousy
Has it's consequences
No one cares what you say
When trust has gone away
It's over you and me,
It ain't what it used to be
No one cares what you say
When truth has gone away

It's all been said before, just try to heal your sores
Like runaway, tomorrow's another day
Daylight suddenly, I'm starving more than usually Common sympathy... sounded new to me
